Sarah Anne's COOKING CLASS

The imagination of the cook is really taxed these hot days to devise interesting food that appeals to the jaded appetites. These cakes will solve the dessert problem:

Caramel Spice Cake

3/4 cup butter or margarine
2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
3/4 cup brown sugar
1 cup buttermilk
3 eggs

Soften butter. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, soda, and spices into bowl with the butter. Add brown sugar and buttermilk. Beat vigorously for 2 minutes. Put in 2 paper lined 4 inch cake pans. Bake 30 to 35 minutes in an over (350 degrees).

Fudge Cake

3 1-ounce squares of unsweetened chocolate
1/2 cup milk
1 well beaten egg
2/3 cup sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2 cups sifted cake flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup milk

Melt chocolate in a saucepan, add milk, well beaten egg, and 2/3 cup sugar. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool. Cream butter, add 1 cup sugar and vanilla. Beat in eggs one at a time. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with the 2/3 cup milk. Blend in the chocolate mixture. Put into 2 paper lined 9-inch cake pans. Bake in an oven (350 degrees) for 25 to 30 minutes. Frost with chocolate frosting.

Chocolate Frosting

1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar
2 tablespoons hot water
3 squares unsweetened chocolate melted
1 slightly beaten egg
4 tablespoons softened butter
1/2 teaspoon rum extract
Chopped nuts

Blend sugar and hot water into chocolate. Beat half of egg into chocolate mixture; then beat in remaining egg. Beat in the butter, a tablespoon at a time. Add extract. Place pan in ice water and beat until spreading consistency. Spread on cake. Sprinkle chopped nuts over cake.

Heavenly Hash Cake

1 stick butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup flour sifted
1/2 cup cocoa
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup nuts
1 teaspoon baking powder
Marshmallows cut into small pieces

Cream butter and sugar. Add 1 egg and half the flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder. Beat well. Add second egg and remaining flour. Beat well. Dissolve cocoa in a small amount of water and add with the vanilla to cake batter. Add nuts. Spread in a 7-inch square pan. Bake about 30 minutes in an over (350 degrees). While cake it hot cover with marshmallow pieces and cover with any simple icing.

Caramel Frosting . .

1/2 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup milk
3 1/4 cups sifted confectioners sugar

Melt butter, add brown sugar. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Cool slightly. Add milk;beat smooth. Beat in confectioners sugar, beating until spreading consistency. Spread on cake.

Graham Cracker Cake

1/2 cup butter
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup brown sugar
3 beaten egg yolks
1/4 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
2 cups crushed graham crackers
3/4 cup milk
1/2 cup chopped nuts
3 stiffly beaten egg whites

Cream butter, add vanilla and sugar. Beat well. Add egg yolks and beat thoroughly. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with the graham cracker crumbs and milk. Add nuts. Fold in egg white. Bake in 2 waxed paper lined 8 inch cake pans. Bake in an over (350 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Spread layers with whipped cream. Serve with fresh fruits.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK SET FOR JULY 24-30

Between 14,000 and 15,000 farm residents will be killed in accidents this year if the 1955 death rate conforms with that of previous years. Another 1,200,000 or more may be injured.

According to the National Safety Council, which with the Department of Agriculture, is co-sponsoring National Farm Safety Week, July 24-30, farming is the nation's third most hazardous industry. Mining and construction have a higher rate of work deaths per 100,000 workers, but agriculture has the highest number of accidental work deaths.

Because farm mishaps tend to occur most often during late morning or afternoon hours, when body reflexes are more sluggish, many safety men recommend work breaks, as in offices and factories.

The National Safety Council included the following among "major unsafe acts" which farmers should guard against: failure to make regular safety inventories; hurry (taking shortcuts that cause accidents; using defective, unguarded, or wrong equipment; inattention; improper animal handling; violating commonsense safety rules; allowing children near dangerous machinery.

BUILD FOR TOMORROW

(Contriuted)

From whatever direction you cross the seas to return to this land, you see first a magic vision duplicated nowhere else, the American skyline. New York, New Orleans, San Francisco, Seattle—your eye catches the outline of the tall structures towering as freedom's challenge to the world. The American skyline is there, as the trademark of a land of boundless resources in imagination, energy and thrift. It signalizes the strength and security of the nation, made so because our people have conserved their strength to assure their security. This country's faith in itself is epitomized in the United States E and H Saving Bond program for all of us.

More than anything else the American skyline is the physical evidence of American investment power and the resources of American savings. It is a monument to the forethought of thrift. This is the country that has looked always to the future. It has become strong because its people invested in it, as they in turn have fared well because of that investment return.

Think well! Every dollar put into America comes back in dividends. These are paid not alone in the rich reward of living in liberty under God, not alone in the highest standard of living for a whole people that the world has ever known. Dividends are earned too from every individual investment in the savings program of the nation.

From childhood our thrifty parents have taught us that, only as we save from our earning years, can we guarantee the security of life's evening. We can protect the needs of our growing families only by conservation of our resources of today against the certain calls of tomorrow. There are few, if any, more practicable means of investing at once in the security of our country and of ourselves than in methodical purchase of E and H Savings Bonds. Your money is lent to the nation today. The country returns it to you in your own time of need with its interest earning augmenting your investment.

Few of us are able to put substantial sums in either bank or securities. But no wage earner need be deterred from orderly saving by that fact. By utilizing payroll withholdings in the purchase of savings bonds, regular investment is open to the small income and salary.

Your regular weekly or periodical deduction will range you with 40 million American families that own U. S. Savings Bonds. Four out of every ten of them earn less than $5,000 a year. Savings Bonds are an asset to American wealth. But in sober truth, they are a godsend to the worker who [illegible] be budgeted to go at [illegible] and still be ready [illegible] emergency.

That American ability [illegible] evidence of Ameri[illegible] ment at work. Ever[illegible] industry that is em[illegible] is kept going by the [illegible] American dollars, [illegible] and serve. The [illegible] dustry, the grease [illegible] Your dollars, placed [illegible] keep the wheels [illegible] ing. Your Bonds-[illegible] from the United [illegible] huge service to all [illegible]

Your family [illegible] secure as your [illegible] own thrift. No [illegible] succeeds. No spendthrift [illegible] vives. So your country [illegible] secure as the confidence [illegible] of the investment of [illegible] in it.

[illegible] friend, Mr. R. A. Hamilton, Appomattox, was telling us [illegible] as electrical storm of some [illegible] weeks ago in his area, which [illegible]ped out" his electric clock. The [illegible]ut would not work, until another electrical storm came up Sunday [illegible]noon and, in his words, [illegible]ed her back in again." Says [illegible]k has been running perfectly [illegible]e the second storm.

[illegible]y friend of ours was doing a [illegible]ed by running a pair of her [illegible]slacks through her washing [illegible]e. But she had overlooked go[illegible]ough the pockets and so when [illegible]pened by, there were seven [illegible]lar bills hanging out on the [illegible]dry.

[illegible] report had gotten out that [illegible] A. Gurney, veteran superin[illegible]t at Appomattox National His[illegible] Park, was to be transferred [illegible]e policy of the National Park [illegible] superintendents from time [illegible]e. We are now happy to learn [illegible]ch transfer will not take place [illegible]r the current fiscal year. Ap[illegible]x has just about made a Con[illegible]e out of "Sandy," and the en[illegible] Gurney family has been an as[illegible] to our community. We under[illegible] that Hugh Gurney plans to [illegible] Tufts College this fall. He was [illegible]mber of the Class of 1955 at [illegible] S. voted "most likely to [illegible]."

[illegible] not watch television a great [illegible]maybe an hour or so a week. [illegible]e night recently we saw a [illegible]ic re-enactment of the life of [illegible] the Kid. Maybe you saw it. [illegible] William Bonney, the fabu[illegible]esperado of the early Golden [illegible] During a break for the com[illegible], I dashed into my den and [illegible] a book I had on the life of [illegible] I wanted to check and see if [illegible]e "doing it right." But what [illegible] to wondering about was why [illegible] that Mother Brightleaf had [illegible]o very near Fort Sumner, [illegible]Mexico on our big trip to the [illegible]Coast a couple of years ago, [illegible] failed to drive down to see [illegible]ot where Billy the Kid is [illegible]. We spent the night at Santa [illegible], N. M., and I remember having [illegible] the map that night to check [illegible] Fort Sumner and the land of [illegible]. 'Twas virtually [illegible] that year. Later we saw its [illegible]gorge as it emptied into the [illegible]grande in lower Texas, near [illegible] Lantry. We purchased book[illegible] about this section of the coun[illegible] and from notes I made I wrote [illegible]em in this space about Billy [illegible] many months ago. The oth[illegible]night, after the TV show, I got [illegible] travel diary, and found that [illegible] passed up Fort Sumner, in [illegible] to take a side trip up to old [illegible]Fe. So, L would still make the [illegible]ection. Really, in all Amer[illegible]ese state capitals have been [illegible]me most: Louisiana's capital [illegible] Rouge, and New Mexico's [illegible]Santa Fe, Glory be, I have been [illegible] Villa Real de la Santa Fe de [illegible]Francisco de Asslesi. The very [illegible] of the name breathes its great [illegible]. Three and a half centuries [illegible] crown of the oldest capital [illegible] the United States, although [illegible]Mexico did not become a state [illegible]1912. I well remember driving [illegible] the Santa Fe Trail—La Fonda, [illegible]historic hotel at the end of the [illegible]road seeing the Spanish-Amer[illegible]the Anglo-Americans and the [illegible] there. But woe is me, I years [illegible]able to retire and have enough [illegible]"long green" to take in ALL [illegible]historic places of America. If [illegible]am not Santa Rosa way again, [illegible]surely ride down to Fort Sum[illegible] see the little wodden cross [illegible] at the grave of Billy [illegible]Kid: three graves in fact, of [illegible], and of Tom O'Folliard and [illegible] Boyle, enclosed by a fence [illegible]ury wire to keep we courious [illegible] from chipping off the stone [illegible] graves where in the [illegible] when the gentle winds rustle [illegible] the chamisa and the mesa [illegible] relives the sags of days [illegible] gone.

Trial Justice Court Handling More Cases

There has been a steady increase in the number of cases handled by the trial justice court of Appomattox County. A check this week at the office of Judge Chas. F. P. Crawley revealed that 1,555 cases were handled by the court for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1955. This was divided into 535 civil cases and 1,020 criminal cases.

This compares with 448 civil cases and 992 criminal cases handled by the trial justice court in the previous fiscal year.

Over the last four years, the record shows a grand total of 5,218 cases handled by the county trial justice court. During the 1953-54 fiscal year, $21,451.13 was collected by the court in fines, etc. It is estimated that this figure for the past fiscal year will be equally as large.

In addition to handling cases of the county trial justice court, Judge Crawley also serves as judge for the Town of Appomattox court. Figures for the town court are not included in the above totals.

Highway Dept. Lets Contracts

Contracts totaling $827,038 for new asphalt surfaces on approximately 90 miles of heavily traveled roads have been awarded by the State Highway Commission.

Including engineering charges and work to be done by state forces in raising shoulders to the new pavement edge, the resurfacing will cost $960,500.

The various projects were awarded to fourteen contractors who submitted low bids at a July 20 letting.

County 4-H Members Attended State Conservation Course

Carrie Jane Inge, Tommy Catlett and Dickie O'Brien represented Appomattox County at the State 4-H Conservation Camp held July 18-23 at Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach.

The group was among 160 other boys and girls who joined in a week of conservation study and activities recreation, fellowship and fun. Each day classes were held in soil and water conservation, insect and rodent control, forestry management, and wildlife preservation. On the lighter side, classes each afternoon in folk-dancing, outdoor cookery, and Indian-lore afforded pleasure for everyone. Each morning and each afternoon a period of Fun-in-the-Ocean was enjoyed.

Evening activities included folk-dancing, and square dancing, council fire circles with yells, songs and challenges by tribes, share-the-fun program, and a carnival.

The outdoor cookery was put into practice Wednesday evening when the class, under the direction of Miss Janet Cameron, V. P. I. Food Specialist, prepared barbecued chicken for everyone for the evening meal.

Bailey Wilkins, Assistant County Agent, also attended from Appomattox.

VEPCO Now Carrying Heaviest Current Load in Its History

The use of air conditioning in the current heat wave has put the heaviest load in history on the Virginia Electric and Power Company's lines.

Vepco announced that the company's peak load early this week was 1,038,000 kilowatts and power output for a 24-hour period was 19,174,000 kilowatt hours, a better than ten per cent increase over last summer's peak.

The heavy load came on the same day that the first of four 25,000 kilowatt units at Vepco's Roanoke Rapids dam was placed in preliminary operation. The other three units will go on the line at two month intervals.

To keep ahead of the steadily increasing power requirements of its customers, Vepco has installed generating equipment with a capability of 800,000 kilowatts since the end of World War II.

The company now has a generating capability, including firm power purchase contracts of 1,264,000 kilowatts. Another 100,000 kilowatts will be added by the end of 1955 when Roanoke Rapids is in full operation.

A new 100,000 kilowatt unit at the Possum Point power station near Quantico went into operation in May and construction has started on a 160,000 kilowatt power station at Yorktown.

Vepco has also applied to the Federal Power Commission for a license to construct an 87,000 kilowatt hydro development on the Roanoke River at Gaston, N. C.

In the past seven years, Vepco has spent over $300,000,000 on new construction, including power stations, high voltage transmission line and distribution lines to serve over 225,000 new customers.

LIONS CLUB TONIGHT

The Appomattox Lions Club will meet tonight at 6:45 at Maud's Hot Shop.

New Town Water Supply Is Approved

It was announced today that the new Town of Appomattox well has been approved and accepted, and the additional supply of water is now in use. The well was drilled several weeks ago, but test shad to be run, and the water had to be approved by the State Health Department before the well could be put into use.

This makes four wells now supplying the town with water. The flow from the new well is approximately 100 gallons per minute. It is located on property purchased from E. Leroy Smith, off Route 460.

The rapid growth of the town and increased demand for water led to the decision to drill another well. Appomattox was on the brink of a water famine last summer during an extended drouth. The extra well will make that condition unlikely in the future.

New Wheat Acreage Can Be Obtained

Farmers on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years 1953, 1954 and 1955, may apply for a 1956 wheat acreage allotment, according to C. S. Rush, chairman of the Appomattox County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC Committee by August 1, 1955.

Blank application forms are available at the county ASC office for use in filing requests for allotments.

MR. J. S. CALDWELL

Mr. Jack Sears Caldwell, Sr., 64, died Wednesday night at 7:15, at his home after an illness of several months.

Born Oct. 26, 1890, in Appomattox, he was the son of the late William B. and LaVenie Crawford Caldwell.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Barbara Elsie Alvis Caldwel; a son, Jack S. Caldwell, Jr., of Spout Spring; a daughter, Mrs. James Jordan, Concord; two brothers, William Thomas, Lyle, of Spout Spring; and three grandchildren.

He was a member of the Hebron Baptist Church, where funeral services will be held Friday at 3 P. M., conducted by the Rev. Floy Cox. Interment will be in the church cemetery. The body will be at the Robinson Funeral Home until an hour before the funeral, when it will be placed in the church.

WOODMAN MEETING

The Supreme Forest Woodman Circle, Grove 73, will have its regular meeting Tuesday, August 2, at the American Legion Building.

A new 400-foot radio tower will be erected at the Appomattox Headquarters of Division III, Virginia State Police. It will replace the $12-foot tower now in use, and will increase the transmission performance of the radio service of Division III, which serves a territory of 22 counties in Central and Southside Virginia, extending to the West Virginia and North Carolina state lines.

Work is now in progress on excavating foundations for the new tower. Excavation is being done by the State Highway Department for four huge concrete pillars, 48 feet apart. This foundation is adjacent to the main brick headquarters building. When the foundation is completed, perhaps in another thirty days, the state will let to contract the erection of the 400 foot steel tower. No definite date has been set for completion of the entire project, but it is held likely that the new tower will be in use by mid-October.

The present radio tower was erected in 1939. In 1946, the State Police changed over to FM broadcasting, and an ever-increasing load has been placed on the existing antenna. Two repeater stations have been set up in Division III territory, one at Keysville, in Charlotte County, for repeating car radio messages, and another in Bath County. To serve these repeater stations, two additional antenna had to be placed on the radio tower here. It all added up to overloaded condition, which necessitated the decision to erect a new and more powerful tower. A similar new tower has been erected at Richmond.

Captain W. W. Blythe, in charge of Division III Headquarters, this week pointed to the large volume of "traffic" handled by the Appomattox Station, and said that the new tower will greatly expedite the varied operations at the headquarters. He cited "that the police are now using a micro-wave system. He noted that after the new 400-foot tower is completed and put into use, the present 312-foot tower would be dismantled, cut into sections for use in micro-wave relay units. The new tower will be of the self-supporting type, not requiring supporting cable.

The presence of Division III headquarters at Appomattox has been a boost to Appomattox, and the entire personnel and staff at the station render invaluable service in the performance of the commonwealth's most important activites.

The station is located on a well-landscaped 14-acre site just west of the town of Appomattox, off Route 460. The handsome brick headquarters building houses the offices and personnel facilities for the Division.

MEETING OF "DEFENDERS" AT RED HOUSE FRIDAY NIGHT

There will be a Tri-county meeting at Red House, Charlotte County, at the Woodman Lodge across from Chambers Store, Friday night, July 29, at 8 P. M., to which all those interested in keeping the public schools on the present segregated basis are invited. This meeting is sponsored by the "Defenders of State Sovereignty and Individual Liberties." R. B. Crawford, of Farmville, president of the organization, will be present, and those interested from this county are invited to attend.

MORRIS FAMILY REUNION

The family of the late Mrs. Addie Ferguson Morris will hold a reunion Sunday August 7, on the grounds of the American Legion building.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend. Bring picnic lunch. (2t)
